

Random Thoughts 1998

By
William H. Bacharach

1. 12/24/97 - We stay in Bosnia because 50 years of Pax Americana is worth defending. For the first time in history there is no war in Europe. This must continue.
2. Given a choice between Property Tax and Sales Tax, I pick Property Tax because it is closer to the peoples' control.
3. Sportscaster at the 1998 Winter Olympics, "Meanwhile, the snow is picking up steam ..."
4. There is a reason that the 1990's military is partisan. It is because the left in the US made it an enemy.
5. The US is the first country in the world where a Jew can enjoy Xmas.
6. If you want to be a big fish in a pond, you have the responsibility to grow the pond.
7. It has to be realized that the US is not a neutral country in 1997, or ever!
8. One of the greatest feelings in the world is to drive BIG.
9. In 1997, we can imagine things that the Founding Fathers couldn't. God! What a future.
10. Two things to seek; Balance and the joy of balance.
11. An artist who does not consider his patron (known or unknown) is on an ego trip.
12. If time is divided into epochs, than the American Revolution was the beginning of the "Epoch of liberty and individual freedom".
13. The real job of a citizen is to drag the country's youth into the future.
14. 5/97 - Why is it that we want to disenfranchise the rich, who are the best example of success in American civilization? Campaign financing.
15. Pundits judge China's economic progress against the US as if the US were standing still and China was moving forward in history. So much for the static model.
16. Since the Founding Fathers opened the Pandora's Box of freedom, the totalitarians have been trying to close it. They can't.
17. The Founding Fathers were not after an end; they were after a means to an end. They were for the most part Masons.
18. The American moral standards and our political culture are our oldest, greatest and most successful export.
19. Capitalism is a system of controls on humankind's basic nature of competitiveness, which works to the benefit of the said, humankind.
20. Being on top of the food chain is very lonely. We have no one to debate with but ourselves.

Random Thoughts 1998

21. T.R. was a progressive because he felt that the monopolists were stifling American creativity and sapping its strength.
22. If it comes over American network TV, the rest of the world sees it as American. We have to be very careful.
23. To be an American is to be part of the only manmade race to ever exist on this planet.
24. I am not a liberal because I will not spend all day trying to find a problem to solve.
25. Religion is man made. Races are made by God. Which do you wish to argue with?
26. The biggest mistake George Bush (41) made was not letting the American citizen celebrate our victory in the Cold War. He thought more of Russian feelings than the American personality. We want our parade and fireworks when we win a War, which is the American way of victory.
27. A two dimensional house may be looked at, but it can not be built.
28. The liberal desire to regulate and control major businesses by the use of the government for the sake or health of the people is by definition, Fascism.
29. The woman for me will have to be ready to come along for the Ride.
30. For century upon century slavery existed for all people. In 70 years (1789 to 1864), the United States of America got rid of it.
31. The hardest thing to deal with is success without trial.
32. My father showed me the world and my mother showed me how to see it.
33. God is not a slave user. God is an equal opportunity employer. This is the difference between the Christian and the Jew (as I see it). The Christian accepts and obeys, the Jew will bargain for the best deal.
34. He is a man of the pendulum: he swings thru the center frequently and accomplishes great things out at the periphery.
35. Making money will not bequeath principals, but if adherence to principals is present, money (if that is the standard) will come.
36. The greatest successful social experiment of the millennium: the American War on slavery - 1781 to 1865.
37. The Internet is a danger to the US because it ties the people together and this makes us susceptible to a national madness. Our only experience with this was the Civil War and American people decided never to that again. This is why the race riots and antiwar movement never expanded into the country. See European history to understand what the Internet (totally open) can cause us. Familiarity breeds contempt.
38. If Grenada is to work, it is time to find a wife.
39. I live my life between God's quotation marks.

Random Thoughts 1998

40. I am called dilettante. There is nothing dishonorable or hurtful in being one. I accept this as one of my parts.
41. To end racism quickly and easily, declare AMERICAN as a race.
42. From 1620 to 1865, word smithery in the English language was an art form. The highest example of this art is the Constitution of the United States of America.
43. To not trust the government does not mean that the government is corrupt, it just means that one is acting like an American.
44. In reference to the Cold War, we have to recognize the victory, deal with the victory and put the victory into the history books. Then we move into the future.
45. The Cold War is over; we are now in a Cold Peace. We will have to react to the hot spots. For survival, our patience and our time of contemplation shorten.
46. Gas prices dropped 20% today at the pump (12/8/98). This is proof of capitalism's victory. If they want our products and produce, they must let us transport them to market.
47. The Clinton Affair from start to finish is the United States claiming leadership in the world by changing its government peacefully and by law. It proves our position; it set governing and moral standards for the 21st Century.
48. Once it is realized that the system does not care if an individual is a part of it, then the individual may use the system to his own best advantage. The system is not the enemy, but a tool.
49. Getting my first paycheck in 20 years is a real shock to me. As an entrepreneur, I feel I stepped into the surrealist world of Calder or Dali.