1. NO is not an answer, it is a question.

2. I do not forgive; this is God's province. I am responsible for justice, humankind's field of operation.

3. An entrepreneur will, as a self-employed individual, never be told that they are over qualified.

4. The reason capitalism won is because the communists could not figure out how it works. It was too alien to them. That you could trust your fellow citizens to advance themselves by honorable mean without state controls was not possible within the totalitarian mindset.

5. I like the phrase "Punch the Clock". I think when I do it: I will use a roundhouse left hook.

6. My creative logic thought process runs something like this, take two known unrelated facts and find a new and creative way to connect them.

7. Eating oysters by yourself is as lonely as it gets.

8. There is no "mid-life" crisis; it is just a reaction to maturity and experience.

9. "There are things never dreamed of...". Can there be a better reason for dreaming.

10. Evolution is one of God's better ideas.

11. If the Tower of Babel is the splitting of the human race, then America is the rewelding of it.

12. The reason that America has a future is that it is built into the system. There is, at all times, 260 million potential leaders. This situation forces continuance.

13. An American believes that his individual successes pull the whole country forward.

14. A man should neither be hungry or cold and I will not deny anyone food or fire.

15. Don't complain, at least you're in the game.

16. Four questions to ask every teacher;
    Do you think it is a good thing for the world that the US exists?
    Why?
    Do you teach this to your students?
    Why not?

17. One of things I have learned is that you are stuck in your own life. So enjoy.

18. Slavery could not be saved legally in the Union, so the South circumvented the law by starting the Civil War.

19. Islam is a faith founded on a nomadic existence and now finds itself totally surrounded by civilizations based on settlements.
