

Random Thoughts 2007

By

William H. Bacharach

1. When we get off this planet and get to where we are going, the question is; who gets to put up the parking meters?
2. I do not except a human being's limitations until they reach them. And they reach them when they are dead.
3. The Democrats' should remember, wars sometimes happen by accident but victory is always planned.
4. From American history: Billy the Kid died in 1881 and Wyatt Earp died in 1928.
5. To the extent a given government delivers the mail and controls the postal boundaries, is found the physical size of the nation that the said government encompasses.
6. One thing America did to the world of governance was to remove rule by order and replace it with rule by vision made practical.
7. American President's who have the Vision Thing; Washington, Jefferson, Monroe, Jackson, Polk, Lincoln, TR, Wilson, FDR, Truman, Kennedy, Reagan and George W. Bush.
8. There is a civil war going on, on battlefield Iraq, the combatants are not Sunni and Shiite, but the 11th Century vs. the 21st Century. It is also true that the U.S. is the cutting point of the 21st Century spearhead.
9. Bush's No Child Left Behind plan is the greatest union busting idea since the inception of Merit Pay Raises.
10. I am a slow person; I amble thru life rather than run thru it. This why I like baseball and football rather than soccer or hockey.
11. It occurs to me that every place in the world that has experienced the American GI has been better for it. Today, it is the Middle East that is getting the benefit of America's way of soldiering. This is a good thing for the planet and our future.
12. The way to live with a Husky is to let them do what they want. You have to teach the Husky what it wants.
13. In the United States we elect presidents to lead, not to represent.
14. I have been using my intellect on the practical side (survival) of for a long time; it is now time to see how my intellect works in academia.

Random Thoughts 2007

15. Know what is of consequence and what are ant turds.
16. I believe that President Bush's strategy in the War On Terror is one of denying the enemy a citadel or the ability to regroup.
17. I stopped smoking tobacco in 1973 and in 2007 I do not have glaucoma.
18. Upon being asked, what was the happiest day of my life? My immediate unthinking answer is the day the Berlin Wall came down.
19. My total opposition to unionized education in the United States is both what was done to me, personally and what the teacher union/bureaucracy [AFT, NEA, Federal Department of Education, etc.] has done to the finest education system ever devised, in the last 75 years.
20. I just met an American Assyrian (second generation) on line and guess what? He does not hate the Spartans.
21. Meet as many people as you can, it is the key to immortality.
22. I just finished watching "Hard Ground". I feel about the 21st Century the way the characters in this TV movie feel about the 20th Century.
23. Most people do not realize what fun it is to go dumpster diving and find gold. For me, when I go dumpster diving, all I find is gold and beauty.
24. There is no way to have democracy without the Rule of Law. The primary by-product of the Rule of Law is capitalism.
25. Tom Bombadil is the answer to Bill Clinton's question. Bombadil is what is, is.
26. The only way to deal with the cultural excesses of the 21st Century is as an individual with the confidence and liberties of a free and responsible citizen.
27. If you treat choice as a verb rather than as a noun, you will not get old as fast as normal, by worrying yourself into gray hair.
28. Life is a tool of learning and what will be built will only be realized when the tool is put down.
29. As long as we have professional (unionized) bureaucrats, I want professional politicians: they are natural enemies and keep each other in check.

Random Thoughts 2007

30. If you follow the Constitution and its authors' and understand that they thought all human rights come from the Creator. You find that if the Creator is eliminated, those Rights are also effectively eliminated.
31. Today, 8/9/07, the Dow fell close to 400 points. This was caused by the Financial sectors. The answer to this is really simple. The large profit that the corporate world has produced over the last few years should be turned back to the investors as raised dividends. This would reverse, stabilize and cause a rally in the Dow, something akin to a rocket up the ass, and big oil should lead the way.
32. For the United States to abandon Israel in 2007 will equate with what England and France did to Poland in 1939.
33. The Amendments to the Constitution are ultimately designed for the individual. The Founding Fathers knew the nature of the American character and provided many hurdles for the individual to get over to use them. This another example of the Balance or Power provide to the individual for the purpose of governing himself.
34. The Russian Communists' tried to do communism with a happy face. It did not work. Today, in 2007, the Chinese are trying communism with a profitable face. It will not work either.
35. A neat phrase: "...as solid as a seven o'clock morning mist."
36. When is it a bad time to free people?
37. In September of 2007, it cost more for 6 months of health insurance than a non-stop, round trip to Bangkok from New York.
38. A major problem in the United States today is that we cannot, as a people, make decisions. This natural ability, which historically has been concentrated in Americans, has been trained out of us or repressed by the teaching of fanatic relativism, as a goal of the educational system.
39. The Democrat's believe that party's priorities are the country's priorities (Whigs) and the Republican's believe that the country's priorities are the party's priorities (Federalists).
40. I have finally solved what has been for me, an historic conundrum. I will, from now on, call the wars between the Indians (Native Americans: for you PC people) and the United States; The Consolidation Wars.
41. On death; knowing what Rubik's Cube looks like when solved does not tell you how to get to that solution.

Random Thoughts 2007

42. On Federal Healthcare; the government gives advice by way of law, which is a command by any other name.
43. People today are so traumatized by the world around them that they think that if you are happy you are; de facto, crazy.
44. What has always amazed me about the atheist is that they spend their entire faith in the effort to prove the existence of nothing.
45. I want to win the War on Terror in a big, very visible way. I want the world to know what will happen if a group of nuts or a nation declares war on the United States. End of report!
46. When dealing with Nature, the environmentalists remind me of the little girl helping mommy bake a cake for the first time. She really, really wants to help but has not got the coordination to crack an egg yet.
47. "There's a time for compromise... it's called "later"." Fortune Candy Message
